

The Player Piano Mouse

The Player Piano Mouse

Book

- full colour book for music lovers and young children
- illustrations create an imaginative, miniature world
- vintage typography and decorative pages
- includes a glossary and stamp collection featuring important mice in history

Adam Dachman is an author and classical musician whose passion is to introduce children to music. Adam writes a tale about a young mouse who dreams of playing the piano. He needs a book design that is as engaging as his story.

Electra is sensitive to the historical setting of the book and creates pages to enhance the story. Jennifer Julich-Trojan creates imaginative and funny images that are irresistible to the young and young at heart.

